Gibson Declares that Coffey Would Have Beaten Moran but for Brown's Ruling.

SHOWS PAST INSTANCES

New York, Nov. 14.—A squint down the long, winding lane of puglilsm convinces one that, after all, there may be a lot of justification for the wall that Billy on let loose when his protege, Jim Coffey, was declared out while still on his feet in the third round of that re-cent bout with Frank Moran, the redheaded heavy-weight.

When Referee Brown stopped that fight I'll admit that Coffey was groggy said Gibson, 'but the grogginess was temporary only. In another minute or two, his brain would have cleared and he surely would have recuperated, given Moran z battle all along—and won out

"I think Brown's ruling was a hasty and I'll always think that way. His record and for the time being has killed Coffey's chances of meeting Willard. "Those who have followed the ring game for many years know that there are hunderds of incidents where a fighter, groggy and seemingly on the point of dronging to the mat has recuperated and

Ryan was hanging onto the ropes, a stifful tooking object," said, Gibson. "Smith rushed in and shot a blow to Eyan's head. He jutended it to be a finisher, but instead that blow cleared Eyan's brain and he came around instantly, fought like a wild man—and won.

"The Bombardier Wells-Al Palzer fish. fought in New York a few years ago, is a more recent instance," continued Gibson. "Wells gave Palzer a terrific beating in the first round and tinued Gibson. Weils gave Paise; a terrific beating in the first round and in the second Paizer was in such shape that the crowd begged the referee to step the bout and prevent a murder. In the third—well, in that third round Paizer came out of his daze, shot a terrific rounder to Weils; stowned and rific wallop to Wells stomach, and Wells went down for the complete count. "Mr. Pawling is prominently known throughout the athletic world for his activities in amateur athletics. He has been president of the local body for the last seven years, and under his guidance the association has been built up from seven clubs to nearly 100, and he probably chaims the distinction of presiding over a district all of the clubs of which are active organizations.

It is a tough situation when a champion, ready to fight any and all comers for the title, has to "press agent" the championship contenders. Looks as if a lot of light-weights need managers with some "pep" in them. Very truly.

Morgan, of the Joan B. J. O'Grady, 1140 Q. It is a safe bet that there is going to be a whole lot of dissension among the football experts when it comes to choosing the center for that mythical All-American eleven.

Even last year, when the contest had fewer entries than this year, there was a big difference in opinion, with Peck, of Pittsburgh, and McEwan, of the Army, running about neck and neck. But this year a has been brilliant, but whether that brilliancy is due to the support of the seam back of him on his individual efforts is an open question.

McEwan has not shown up as well this year as he did last year, due, some of the wise ones say, to a lack of support back of him. On the other hand, Peck, the University of Pittsburgh marvel, is now showing up better than he comparison on the men. All three are wonders, and each one will land a place on some expert's All-American choice.

victory over Davidson today was team is just beginning to hit its strice and that by Turkey Day it will present quite a formidable machine. It is well known here that the Blue and White the material for a winning team has the material for a winning team and that the preliminary contests are of little moment, just so Virginia can be downed in the final struggle of the year. Just so long as Tandy, Tayloe. Henderson, and other players of that type are to be found on the Old North State team, Virginia may well fear the outcome of the Thanksgiving Day bat-

Back in early mineties, it will be re-called, Virginia had a wonderful eleven with an enviable record. It defeated the Carilde Indians in Norfolk and the Redskins, it must be remembered, had just previously beaten Harvard. Flushed with victory and full of confidence the "unbeatable" team journeyed to Norfolk to play the annual game with North Carolina. The Tarheel eleven's record that season was so bad that it did not compare with that of the pres-ent Carolina team. Richmond College had defeated the Carolinians at Chapel Hill and the Orange and Blue team, it was believed, had a cinch. The game was played on a biting cold day and Lafayette Field was packed, mostly with Carolinians, who had evidently been tipped off. The result was the gridinon sur-prise of the year. Carolina won by a big score and Virginia got nowhere in sight of the Tarheel goal.

It de-veloped yesterday that the contract ex-isting between the two, which Columbia has broken because of its cancellation of the game, stipulated a definite guarantee for the Trinity team, and that Trinity has no intention of letting the matter and where it seems to have stopped.
Just how much Trinity was to receive from Columbia is not known, but the Hartford authorities have no hesitation in stating that Columbia would be held the letter of the contract in that particular at least. One lawyer whose opinion was asked yesterday said that Trinity would be within its rights in deremanding the guarantee money, but if the team should play Holy Cross on Saturday, as reported, the Trinity case would lose much of its strength and would probably be thrown out of court
